

Learning New Things...

Wow! They Grow Up So Fast

What Is Your Toddler Doing...

1. A toddler learns to interact with others-

12-15 months → points and asks for things, picks up food with fingers and puts in mouth, loves attention, walks alone

15-18 months → drinks from a cup, names parts of the body, enjoys putting things in and out of containers, says words to get things he/she wants, looks at books and turns pages alone

18-24 months → puts two or more words together, points to pictures in a book when they are named, likes to run, takes off hat, socks, and sweater

2. Not all toddlers develop the same way- some learn to do certain things sooner and other things later
3. If you are concerned about your toddler's development, talk with your health care provider
4. There are programs available to help toddlers who need an extra Push - ask about the Early Intervention Program available in your area by calling 1-800-323-4769
